What is MRCP?

The MRCP, offered by the Royal College of Physicians, is the gold standard for physicians. It assesses your knowledge, skills, and competency in internal medicine. The exam evaluates the essential expertise required to excel in the field of internal medicine.

- MRCP Part 1: Written exam with multiple-choice questions (MCQs). Tests basic medical knowledge in various disciplines of Internal Medicine.
- MRCP Part 2 Written: Written exam with questions in multiple choice format (MCQs). Evaluates your ability to diagnose and manage real-life medical cases in different areas of Internal Medicine.
- MRCP PACES: Practical Assessment of Clinical Examination Skills (PACES). Measures communication, clinical examination, and decision-making abilities through a series of clinical scenarios.

A Career-Defining Choice

Choosing MRCP is more than just an exam; it's a game-changer for your career in Internal Medicine

Why MRCP is the Key to Success

Aspect	Non-MRCP Holders	MRCP Holders
Recognition	Often limited to country of primary qualification	Recognized globally across 40+ countries
Career Prospects	Need additional qualifications for advanced roles	Eligible for specialist and consultant positions
Training Level	Typically start at lower training levels (FY1)	Fast-track to higher training (e.g. ST3+ level in the UK)
Earning Potential	Generally lower salary ranges	Better remuneration both in home country & abroad.
UK Practice	Need for additional exams for GMC registration	Streamlined GMC registration process
International Opportunities	Limited international job options	Enhanced prospects for global migration

Aspect	Non-MRCP Holders	MRCP Holders
Competence Perception	Competence level may need additional proof	Demonstrated advanced internal medicine expertise
Professional Network	Limited access to international professional circles	Access to RCP's global network and resources
Academic Positions	May need extra credentials for academic positions	Preferred for research and teaching roles
Career Progression	Potentially slower career growth	Accelerated advancement in Internal medicine
Global Health Leadership	Fewer global leadership opportunities	Eligible for key roles in global initiatives
Medical Education	Additional teaching qualifications often required	Recognised qualification for educator roles
